

INVITATION

Business Performance Seminar

The Wave Executive Information Briefing Series provides insight into innovations in information solutions that can help drive business performance.

In tough economic times with rapid change, accurate, relevant, targeted and reliable information is critical to ongoing success.

This seminar will show how Microsoft Business Intelligence including the ubiquitous Microsoft Office products partnered with Calumo, can provide a cost effective and innovative planning, reporting and monitoring solution that manages critical information to support timely and informed decisions.

The seminar will be of interest to executives and business managers responsible for planning, monitoring and reporting.

In this presentation Wave will show how using scorecards, dashboards, reports, spreadsheets and analytics; everyone at all levels in the organisation will have the information they need. It will show that managing information in a coordinated and controlled manner will mean everyone is working on the single version of the truth.
